Leading in Connected Commerce

For more than 25 years now our pioneering spirit has been influencing developments in the E-Commerce sector. For us Connected Commerce is the logical continuation of the multi-channel business, where channels become touchpoints, making it possible for us to build bridges between online and offline – always the right content, anytime, anywhere via any device.

Connected Commerce requires integrated, flexible, and seamlessly networked strategies and processes. For this purpose our interdisciplinary and agile working teams design intelligent solutions across all businesses: from consulting via the development and realization of websites, portals, online shops, and mobile applications with relevant content, all the way to networked CRM and digital communication.

hmmh helps brands to engage with their customers, creates seamless customer journeys and multi-channel campaigns across all relevant touchpoints, develops interfaces and apps as well as landing pages and supports with tracking and monitoring for lasting business success.

The digital transformation inevitably brings changes and challenges. This results in many new opportunities for your company and your consumers. We advise and support you individually in the optimal realization of your goals.
